

Edward Hopper comes home to Nyack: A new exhibit opens in his boyhood home

5:35 PM, May 18, 2011

A A

Edward Hopper has returned to his Nyack home — at least that's the feeling curators hope visitors will have when viewing the momentous exhibit opening Saturday.

"Edward Hopper, Prelude: The Nyack Years" features works and items on loan from the Whitney Museum of American Art and the Arthayer R. Sanborn Hopper Collection Trust. It's all part of the celebration wrapping up the 40th anniversary of the Hopper House Art Center.

Imagine being able to see drawings he did from childhood through his 20s, his childhood pencils and the paint box he used in his later years. ...

News Edward Hopper's painting, Artist's Bedroom, Nyack, ca. 1905-1906 is part of the new Edward Hopper exhibit at the Edward Hopper House Art Center in Nyack.
